Course description:

This course, designed for the college-bound student, is a genre-based study of language, literature, and composition that will provide students with the opportunity to gain experience in reading, writing, speaking, and critical thinking. Our units of study will include nonfiction, short stories, novels, drama, and poetry. Students will develop strategies for writing in a variety of modes, acquire new vocabulary, engage in standardized test preparation, and gain experience in using technology this semester. Students will be expected to participate daily in discussions, independent work, and group work in class to develop their critical and analytical thinking skills. This honors course is appropriate for students who are highly motivated, have a high level of achievement and possess a strong work ethic.

Class Requirements:

Refer to the class wiki: <http://bragland.wikispaces.com/>

Required Textbooks:

Prentice Hall Literature: (we have a class set)
Sadlier-Oxford Vocabulary Workbook level E (unit study every two weeks)

Attendance and Make-up Work:

If a student must be absent, he or she is responsible for checking the class blog to obtain any assignments. .
It is the student's responsibility to arrange time for make-up work. See county/school policy.

Late Work:

Assignments are not accepted for course credit. Email me with any personal concerns.

Videos:

We may occasionally view curriculum related films and film clips (G, PG, and PG-13 only) from the media center. A parent's signature on this syllabus indicates permission for your son or daughter to view these movies.

Standards Based Grading Policy:

Point values for assignments will vary based on length, complexity and effort of each assignment (i.e. not every assignment is worth 100 points).

Categories:

- 30% Reading and Literature/Reading Comprehension (includes summative assessments on literature units)
- 30% Writing and Conventions (includes essay assignments and research project)
- 5% Listening, Speaking, and Viewing (includes performance assessments such as Literature Circles)
- 5% Common formative assessments
- 10% Vocabulary
- 20% Final Exam

Academic Integrity:

If a student plagiarizes or copies another's work, the student will receive a parent phone call, "U" in conduct, discipline referral, and a zero on the assignment. Cheating isn't tolerated.

Extra Help:

Extra help is available in the mornings and during AO in Room 308. Students may also receive help by appointment. If you are having trouble with an assignment, do not hesitate to talk with me about your concerns. I am here to help you succeed.

Technology Etiquette:

No technology devices will be visible during class unless provided permission for academic purposes as instructed by the teacher. Do not have cell phones on the desk or anywhere for use during class time. At times students will use cell phones for class instruction to enhance learning. Use of cell phones during class is a distraction and a privilege. Unauthorized use of a cell phone will result in a parent phone call, teacher discipline referral, and additional consequences for continued use.

Students are expected to treat others with respect at all times, follow the rules within the Pope High School handbook, and abide by the county mandates. Tardiness and excessive absenteeism will be reported to grade-level administrator and parents and can disrupt learning.

The Pope High School English Department believes that students should uphold the high ethical standards that are expected in all classes. Your signature represents your agreement to abide by these standards. Please read the following carefully before you and your parent sign on the appropriate lines on the next page.

I will refrain from passing or sharing information on tests and quizzes during or after class through any means.

I will refrain from cheating of any kind during tests and quizzes.

I will refrain from unauthorized sharing of work.

I will refrain from plagiarism.

I will not submit another student's work as my own for either practice or performance standards.

*Parents and Students,
I am looking forward to a very successful and productive semester! Please read the documents above carefully. Please sign below indicating that you have read and understood the syllabus, classroom expectations and behavior expectations. Students, please keep the policies information in your class notebook or binder for reference.*
